CHICAGO and ATLANTA, Feb. 28, 2018 /PRNewswire/ -- CareerBuilder, a global leader in human capital solutions, announced today that they have joined Ultimate Software's UltiPro® Developer Network (UDN). The new partnership gives CareerBuilder and Ultimate the ability to integrate their solutions to make it easier for mutual customers to exchange data between the UltiPro HCM solution and CareerBuilder Employment Screening.

CareerBuilder Employment Screening, formerly Aurico, has provided clients with background screening, drug testing, I-9 and occupational health services for nearly 30 years. The company offers a 22 percent faster turnaround time than the industry average and a 90 percent verification rate – 50 percent higher than the industry average. "CareerBuilder is excited to take our partnership with Ultimate Software to the next level," said Ben Goldberg, CEO of CareerBuilder Employment Screening. The UltiPro Developer Network allows partners to build an out-of-the-box integration to Ultimate's UltiPro platform and provides them with information, resources and documentation to meet Ultimate's standards and best practices. The UDN program is designed to give customers access to seamless, real-time integrations built in the cloud between UltiPro and an ecosystem of best-in-class partners.
