CHICAGO and JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 7

A world leader in on-demand talent management and the nation's largest online job site are teaming up to help mutual customers quickly target and track job candidates. Vurv Technology and CareerBuilder.com have signed a strategic partnership to integrate technologies and streamline the hiring process and candidate experience for employers.

Under the new partnership, CareerBuilder.com and Vurv will provide a seamless integration of resources that include:

- Resume Database Web Service -- Vurv customers can search CareerBuilder.com's database of over 26 million resumes and save desired resumes to their job requisition, without having to navigate away from the Vurv application. Not having to log into two disparate systems allows users to save time, reduce errors associated with manual entry of candidate information and focus on more strategic recruiting initiatives.
- Shared Apply Function -- Vurv users can garner more interest in job openings by providing candidates with an easier way to apply. Candidates' resume details pre-populate the Vurv application, enabling candidates to complete applications in less time and reducing barriers to apply.
- Direct Job Postings from Vurv to CareerBuilder.com -- Vurv customers can post job openings directly to CareerBuilder.com from Vurv in real time, quickly promoting their opportunities and reducing steps in time-to-hire.

"Working together, CareerBuilder.com and Vurv are offering clients a more time-effective and cost-effective solution for their hiring needs," said Jennifer Seith, Director of Strategic Services for CareerBuilder.com. "Having access to better technology, more flexibility and faster results can give our clients a distinct advantage in a very competitive recruitment environment."

"We are excited to be able to offer our customers a quicker, easier and more efficient way to find and attract top talent via CareerBuilder.com," said Mike Gibson, Senior Vice President Global Sales and Business Development for Vurv.
